MINISTRIES

Building Relationships...
...Supporting Communities

We've been blessed to serve you for 2-1/2 years as a host site for Angel Food, but transportation logistics have made it necessary to switch to a different food ministry, Great Food For All (GFFA). The two non-denominational, non-profit ministries operate much the same way, but there are a few differences you will notice:

- You will receive 2-4 less items per month in a basic box, BUT all of the food is frozen (no cheaper staples such as beans/rice/dry pasta), so the value is just as great. The quality appears to be a bit better as well.
- GFFA is based out of Ohio, not Georgia, so there is a different variety of food offered. The menu appears more varied as well.
- Your order arrives pre-boxed, which virtually eliminates missing items.
- Once we're fully trained, credit/debit cards will be accepted as well as EBT and cash. In addition, online ordering should be available sometime this summer.
- The ordering and delivery schedule has changed. The food will now be delivered on either the 2nd or 3rd Saturday of the month. Ordering dates will generally be at the end of the month, but you can also order on delivery days in the middle of the month.
- We hope our delivery time will remain the same, but until the first truck arrives, it's really a guessing game on our part. Please be patient for the first month or two until the trucking schedule is finalized.
